CIO, American Motors Agree to 3-Year Contract

Pact Follows Chrysler, GM, Ford Pattern

Only Two Auto
Companies
Remain Unsigned

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors and the CIO United Auto Workers today agreed on a new three-year contract which extended the guaranteed wage to the auto industry's "little three."

The settlement automatically signaled the end of an eight-hour strike by 24,000 American Motors employees at seven plants in Michigan and Wisconsin.

They went on strike when a midnight deadline passed without an agreement.

With only slight variations, the new American Motors contract follows the Chrysler contract negotiated Thursday and those negotiated earlier this summer with Ford and General Motors.

American Motors matched the Chrysler contract by including office and salaried workers in the jobless pay plan which guarantees workers up to 65 per cent of their normal take home pay during a half year of layoff.

Get Same Economic Package
American Motors workers received the same economic package granted by the "big three" producers. It includes 6-cent hourly pay increases during each of the next three years, improved pension, hospital and medical plans and an extra day's vacation.

One feature of the new AMC pact was to provide for 3,000 workers who are "displaced" after American Motors was formed last year through the merger of Nash and Hudson. The workers, who had lived in Detroit most of their lives, quit rather than move to Wisconsin when certain Hudson operations were transferred there.

Today's settlement left only two auto companies still not counted on guaranteed wage contracts. They are Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser-Willys, which along with American Motors make up the "little three."

Kaiser-Willys and the UAW have begun preliminary negotiations but have not settled down to steady bargaining.

Packard Workers Out
At South Bend, Ind., 9,000 Studebaker-Packard workers were out on a strike which began at midnight Thursday when their contract expired and the workers refused to extend it.

A spokesman said the talks were broken off but probably would be resumed "soon."

The AMC negotiations followed closely the pattern set in the union's talks with Ford and General Motors last June and Chrysler Corp. Thursday.

Some 139,000 Chrysler workers in seven states struck for six hours early Thursday morning before negotiators agreed on a contract which extended the guaranteed wage principle to the firm's plant and office workers.

The Chrysler pact marked the first time that white collar workers have been included under the guaranteed wage plan which the union established in earlier negotiations with Ford and General Motors.

Record Southern California Heat Wave Blamed for 3 Deaths, 5 Mountain Fires

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California braced today for an onslaught from a record heat wave blamed for at least three deaths and 5 major mountain fires which have inflicted millions of dollars damage.

The sizzling heat, which set an all-time high of 110 degrees in Los Angeles Thursday and boosted temperatures even higher in other Southern California areas, was accompanied by low humidity and created an unusual fire hazard in tinder-dry mountainous areas.

A fire in the nearby San Dimas foothills destroyed 11 structures, some of them in the mansion class, and damaged at least 10 more before it was contained late last night. Miraculously nobody was killed and only two injured in the San Dimas fire which, fanned by blast furnace winds up to 30 miles an hour, swiftly cut a swath through more than 200 acres of dry brush, engulfing or charring buildings in its path.

A butane tank exploded at the Southern Pacific station near the foothills and four of its freight cars on a siding were burned. The station was destroyed.

Three other major fires raged out of control in San Diego County and another fire swept mountains near Castaic in Angeles National Forest.

The 110 degrees in Los Angeles Thursday made it the hottest day in the history of the Los Angeles Weather Bureau, surpassing the old mark of 109 degrees set in July, 1891.

No relief from the heat wave is in sight and a high of 108 was forecast for Los Angeles today. There were three deaths that emergency hospitals attributed in-hour, swiftly cut a swath through

1,590 Enroll In City Schools On First Day

A total of 1,590 boys and girls were enrolled in the city schools yesterday on the first day of the new fall term. This was an increase over last year's first day of 1,519.

Russell Malan, city school superintendent, stated that there are three less teachers, one of whom worked part time, and two schools which are not operating this year. Pupils who attended Bankston school last year are now enrolled in Horace Mann and students from the Lincoln school are going to Horace Mann and Logan.

The Junior high school has neither an increase or a decrease with an enrollment of 359 the same figure as last year.

At the Dorrisville school where Brose Phillips is principal, there are 233 pupils enrolled which is a drop of around 10 from the enrollment on the first day last year.

These totals are expected to increase following the Labor Day holidays as they do each year.

A report from the Harrisburg Township high school was not available at this time.

41 Injured in Blast, Fire in Cookie Factory

CHICAGO (AP)—An explosion-triggered fire destroyed a cookie factory, injured 41 persons, and indirectly killed a Salvation Army worker today.

The blast and towering flames engulfed a block-long group of buildings, turning the six-story Carr-Consolidated Biscuit Co. plant and a three-story annex into charred shells.

A one-story building belonging to the company suffered severe damage, but other factories in the crowded "Back of the Yards" industrial section were saved when the flames were brought under control.

Chief Fire Marshal Albert Peterson estimated damage at one-million dollars.

The explosion caught 101 employees at work in the plant Thursday night. Many were injured when they jumped from second, third and fourth floor windows.

At least 16 persons were hospitalized, three in critical condition. About 25 others were given first aid at the scene.

On the city's south side, Salvation Army truckdriver Raymond Scott, 27, was killed as he sped to the scene with a load of coffee and doughnuts for the firefighters.

His truck collided with a car and he was dead on arrival at Englewood Hospital.

Police said early today that 98 of the 101 employees in the factory had been accounted for. A search was launched for the three missing persons.

The blast which started the blaze apparently came from the plant's powerhouse, a company spokesman said. It knocked a bartender from his stool a block away, shattered windows, and sent sparks showering down on nearby factories.

Two Oil Tests Abandoned

Two Saline county oil wells, one in Harrisburg township, the other in Independence, were reported abandoned today.

Illinois Legion Asks Withdrawal From UN; Pensions for War I Vets

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The Illinois American Legion today adopted resolutions calling for United States withdrawal from the United Nations and for a $100 a month pension for all World War I veterans more than 60 years old.

Both resolutions were passed by delegates at the state convention over the recommendations of the committees which had studied them.

The passage votes on both came after opposition to the committee stands by Charles V. Falkenberg, Chicago.

The resolutions will be offered by the Illinois Legion at the national convention in Miami in October.

National Security Committee Chairman Omar McCallin, Salem, told the convention the committee rejected the resolution for withdrawal from the U. N. because the United States is too involved in the U. N.

Few Favored U. N.

"There were some who felt we should never have made the mistake of joining the United Nations," but we felt we had a bear by the tail now and couldn't let go," McCallin said.

The committee on rehabilitation recommended rejection of the resolution for the $100 pension to World War I veterans over 60 and adoption of a substitute resolution basing the pension on need and ability to work and earn a livelihood.

Many Resolutions Adopted
Falkenberg said this was "inconsistent" with 11 years of Legion membership backing for a pension "as a matter of right, without qualification" for World War I veterans.

He said Spanish-American War veterans get $101 a month pensions "as a matter of right" and asked the convention to "approve this resolution without a need clause."

The convention upheld Falkenberg by a voice vote.

Other resolutions adopted would: Ask Congress to "nullify" existing treaties for trial of members of U. S. armed forces in courts of foreign countries, and require trial at military courts-martial. The resolution contended many foreign countries' courts required defendants to prove their innocence instead of the prosecution to prove the guilt.

Oppose closing of 19 Veterans Administration hospitals in the nation as recommended by the Hoover Commission.

Ask the President and Congress to force release of American prisoners of war through such action

Find Body of Premature Baby

The lifeless form of a tiny premature baby was found today at Route 142 and the intersection of the gravel road that leads to Ridgeway about two and a half miles southeast of Eldorado.

It was seen by Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, who live on the gravel road, near the corner of the intersection. They called Sheriff William T. Barrett, who with deputies James S. Lyon and Everett N. Sneed went to the scene.

They summoned Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons, who took it to the Eldorado funeral home.

State to Sell Toll Road Bonds During October

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today announced the bonds for Illinois' first toll roads will go up for sale in the "middle of October."

Stratton announced the sale of the 400 million dollar bond issue after a meeting with the Illinois Toll Highway Commission.

He said actual construction of the turnpikes will get underway next spring. The roads financed by the first bond issue are three sections of a tri-state and east-west system in northeast Illinois totaling 193 miles.

These three toll roads are the east section of a tri-state route running from the Indiana state line around Chicago; the west section of the tri-state route running northwesterly from west of Chicago past Rockford; and "Section A" of the east-west route running from west of Chicago to near Aurora.

Bond Terms Unknown
Stratton said terms of the bond issue would not be known until shortly before the bonds are offered for sale and will depend on conditions of the bond market. The bonds will be paid off by revenues from the toll highways.

The governor said the "definite date" for the sale of the bonds was decided after an "up-to-date" traffic and earnings report and a supplemental engineering report were presented to the commission at the meeting today.

He said the engineering report, by Joseph K. Knoerle & Associates, showed construction and acquisition costs have risen about 16 million dollars since last November when the bond sale first was planned.

But he said the traffic and earnings report was "very optimistic" and showed an 11 per cent increase in the revenues that will be derived from the initial toll roads.

The governor said the reports were also "encouraging" toward an early date for building the second stage of the east-west turnpike from Aurora to the Quad-Cities and Iowa state line.

Prepare Rose Building
Space for Sears
Catalog Sales Store

Carpenters, electricians and painters today were busy readying the first-floor, north room of the Rose building on North Main street for a Sears Catalog Sales store to be opened soon in Harrisburg.

Date of the opening has been set for Sept. 22.

Clyde Odaffer, Sears field manager, and Eldon Madding, Sears representative who is supervising the remodeling job, have been in town for several weeks.

The building is the one vacated several weeks ago by the Employment Service and Unemployment Compensation offices.

Wife of Officer Under Trial Appeals
To Army to Stop Acting Like Russia

DORSEY, Md. (AP)—The German-born wife of Maj. Ronald E. Alley appealed to the U. S. Army today to stop acting "like Russia" and "forgive and forget" the behavior of captured soldiers in Korean prison camps.

Mrs. Erna Alley, 33, said it is "unjust" for the Army to punish her husband and other former prisoners of war for what they may have said or done after being "tortured by starvation" by their Communist captors.

Alley, 32, is being tried by the Army on charges of calling former President Truman a "war monger," giving the Communists military information and collaborating with the enemy in other ways during his 33 months in Korean prisons.

Mrs. Alley said her husband's weight dropped to less than 120 pounds during his first year in prison under the "starvation" diet provided by the Communists. "If those responsible for the court-martial trials would just realize what those boys went through and put themselves in their place, I don't think there would be any trials. After all, every soldier is only human and can take just so much. They want to live, see their families again and see their children grow up and be happy," she said.

"If my husband is guilty, they all are guilty. I don't think any should be punished. But do they expect more from an Army officer than an Air Force officer?"

Erna, who became Alley's German war bride in 1947, said she knew that 90 per cent of the American people don't approve of the Army's POW trials.

"It's like Russia," she said. "If this happened in Russia, I could understand it—but not here in this beautiful, free country."

Claim Water Well Blown Up By Commandos

Arab States
Begin Mobilizing
To Support Egypt

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The Israeli government announced that Egyptian commandos blew up a water well in Israeli territory today, ending what the United Nations had reported was a de facto cease fire along the Gaza boundary.

Maj. Dan Gov, the Israeli military spokesman, said the latest Egyptian incursion came in the area of Yad Mordecai where two Egyptian Vampire jet fighters were reported shot down Thursday in an air battle with two Israeli jets.

Only a few hours earlier Israel had offered to abide by a United Nations cease fire order if Egypt would halt her attacks in "whatever form." The new attack, marking the 12th straight day of border clashes, would appear to block the Israeli action.

Reports reaching Cairo said the Arab states of the Middle East had begun mobilizing their militia and political forces to support Egypt in its growing clashes with Israel.

The reports said Syrian Premier Sabri El Assali had called an emergency meeting of delegates of the Arab governments to consider what measures could be taken to assist Egypt. He also summoned the U. S. ambassador in Damascus and protested the Israeli military actions, the reports said.

Unconfirmed reports in Cairo said Syrian outposts across the Israeli-Syrian border Thursday opened artillery fire on Israeli positions near Jenin. No casualties were reported.

In Amman, capital of Jordan, Premier Said El Mufti conferred with commanders of the Arab Legion and the national guard over the Gaza situation.

A report from Baghdad said Iraqi Chamber of Deputies President Tewfik El Moukhtar urged the Arab states to rally to the support of Egypt. Egypt thus far has not requested Arab aid, but it believed public opinion in the Arab world would strongly demand the Arab governments rush to the help of Egypt.

Fallen Planes Inspected
Military attaches from the Western embassies in Tel Aviv journeyed to Yad Mordecai to inspect the wreckage of two Egyptian planes downed there in Thursday's battle.

Effects of today's raid on the United Nations efforts for a cease-fire along the Gaza border was not officially known.

Michael Elitzur, spokesman for the foreign office, said earlier Israel would not undertake any hostile military action against Egypt if that country's government desists its guerrilla warfare. But he reiterated Israel's previous stand that acceptance of a cease fire was conditional on Egypt's undertaking to maintain peace on the borders.

Mrs. Edwin Towle Injured in Crash

Mrs. Edwin Towle suffered a lacerated left knee and a head injury last night when the car she was driving figured in a collision with a Harrisburg-Dorrisville bus driven by C. C. Harding on South Granger street between Park and College.

The Towle automobile was damaged considerably.

State police reported two other collisions in the area last night, but there were no injuries.

Roy A. Lane, state policeman, was called to Ridgeway late last night following a crash at 10:45 p. m. of cars driven by Robert Ande of Eldorado and Lonnie Kirkpatrick of Carmi at Route 1 and the Ridgeway spur.

He also reported that cars driven by Virgil Meier of Harrisburg and Bennie J. Turner of Stonefort collided at 7:45 p. m. on Route 45 at the Barnett street intersection.

Boston Attorney Named VFW Chief

BOSTON (AP)—Timothy J. Murphy, 45, Boston attorney, was elected commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the group's 56th national encampment here Thursday. He succeeds Merton B. Tice, Mitchell, S. D.

Union Postpones Penn Railway Strike

NEW YORK (UP) — The CIO Transport Workers today "postponed" in the face of presidential intervention a strike which had been scheduled to begin at midnight against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The union represents some 35,000 non-operating employees of the railroad, primarily employed in the road's shops between here and St. Louis.

President Eisenhower moved to avert the walkout Thursday by appointing a three-member emergency board to investigate the labor dispute.

Great Britain recognized the independence of the United States in January, 1783, by the Treaty of Paris.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

TOM McNAMARA Says: Shivers Blast May Be Boost For Stevenson: However, Democrats Don't Like Adlai's ADA Ties; Rayburn To Play Key Role At 1956 Convention; Stassen Handles Millions But Forgets Penny Change. (Editors Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his usual column will be written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON. — Even his enemies—and he seems to have a lot of them—agree that the best break Adlai Stevenson has received in his comeback battle for the Democratic presidential nomination—and he can use a few breaks—was when Governor Allan Shivers of Texas came out against him.

To regular Democrats, every knock is a boost from the Dixiecrat Texan who supported the Republicans in 1952. However, Shivers said some things in his anti-Stevenson blast that many regular Democrats would agree with, much as they dislike Shivers. He also left unsaid a number of things that Democratic leaders outside the Stevenson camp have been saying privately.

A prominent Democrat who doesn't want to be quoted sized up the 1956 Chicago convention as follows: "If Governor Stevenson is a candidate, he will be strongly supported in the early balloting. He will have a good many pledged delegates, including probably a sizable number from the South, but after the third ballot they will be looking around for the exits."

"In my opinion, Stevenson's problem will be controlling the itchy feet among his delegates," this leader added. "You must remember, he made it by only one and a half votes at the 1952 convention in Chicago."

ADLAI'S DRAWBACKS

What is the story behind the sudden allergy to the man who led the Democratic ticket in 1952? Adlai Stevenson, a plain-spoken person himself, probably would like it better if it were brought out into the open. Here are some of the "drawbacks" that have been dogging his comeback trail.

1. Stevenson was defeated decisively once by Eisenhower. Even under the best possible campaign conditions, a defeated candidate has at least one strike on him.

2. Democratic foes of Stevenson claim he is too much of the suave, "city slicker" type to compete successfully against the popular and earthy Eisenhower. All Democratic leaders, both for and against Stevenson, assume that the President will run again. Those against Stevenson argue that the party needs a "new personality" to lead the ticket in 1956, if it hopes to win.

3. Anti-Stevenson Democrats contend that he couldn't carry the women's vote—at least, in a battle with Eisenhower.

However, the deadliest ammunition being aimed at Stevenson behind the scenes is a charge by fellow Democrats that he has too close a kinship with the Americans for Democratic Action, an independent, liberal group that doesn't follow the party line of either the Democrats or Republicans, but is often branded as "left wing" by the conservatives of both parties.

STEVENS' ADA TIES. The charge that the ADA is "left wing" is highly disputable. The charge that Stevenson is closely linked up with the ADA is, however, a matter of record and many regular Democrats resent Adlai's tie with an independent group.

With an important election coming up next year, on which the presidency of the United States is riding, Democratic chiefs do not believe in taking any chances. A short time ago the Democratic leader quoted earlier in this story was approached by an ADA official on behalf of Stevenson.

This leader, incidentally, is one of the top liberals in the Democratic party, but he told the ADA representative that he opposed the Stevenson nomination in 1952 and would be against Stevenson again at the 1956 convention in Chicago.

"Why?" asked his visitor. "Partly because I don't think he can beat Eisenhower and partly, to be very frank with you, because he is too closely associated with your organization," was the reply. "Don't tell me that you are falling for that propaganda that the ADA is left-wing," said the ADA spokesman. "You know better than that. Do you really think we are left-wing?"

"Of course I don't think you are left-wing or anything of that sort," replied the Democratic chief. "I think you are not. But the general public does not share my opinion."

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The man who will call the shots at the 1956 Democratic convention in Chicago is Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. Rayburn, who would like the Democratic nomination himself and deserves it, will control the key southern delegations. A good long-shot bet is Kefauver for President and Harriman for vice president. Former President Harry Truman has been privately pumping for Kefauver. So has House Majority Leader John McCormack of Massachusetts, who is a potent influence in the party and works closely with Speaker Rayburn both in legislative and political matters. . . . Carmine De Sapio, the Tammany boss and a s h r e w d politician, apparently jumped the gun in advising his own candidate for the White House, Governor Averell Harriman of New York, to declare openly for Stevenson. De Sapio had hopes that Stevenson would be able to swing his delegates to Harriman, if the Illinoisan can't get the nomination himself, but the experts say this won't happen. De Sapio's advocacy of "favorite son" candidates in northern states also may backfire in favor of Kefauver, not Harriman, according to competent observers.

State Nurse Program Progresses; Special Election Seen for Judge

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — State Welfare Director Dr. Otto L. Bettag, Chicago, reports the Department is making progress in signing up nursing students under its state scholarship program. The recent General Assembly appropriated $430,000 to finance 200 scholarships. As of this week an approximate 80 have been signed for training in 75 general hospitals in the state.

Object of the program is to increase the number of nurses available for general hospital work as well as for state mental institutions. The scholarships are open to young men and women. Tuition is free and they will receive a salary of $30 a month for the first year of training, $40 a month for the second year and $50 a month for the third year.

To receive the training each student must sign a contract to work at least one year in a state hospital for each year of training. Graduates of the training program will be paid $250 a month minus $38 for board, lodging and laundry. To qualify each trainee must be at least 17 and not more than 35 and be graduate of a high school.

The training must be in one of the listed general hospitals having a nurses' training program which has been approved by the State Department of Registration and Education. Part of the student's training must include a minimum of 12 weeks in psychiatric training in a state hospital. Illinois state hospitals equipped for such training are Elgin, Anna, Chicago, Peoria and Jacksonville.

Both Gov. William G. Stratton and Welfare Director Bettag are hopeful the program will go a long way toward helping solve the Illinois nursing shortage as well as in psychiatric aides. Bettag said that while some hospitals have started fall classes, applicants for the training will be accepted as late as Sept. 18.

Governor Stratton thinks it "very likely" he will call a special election to fill a vacancy in the third judicial circuit, embracing Bond, Madison, Monroe, Perry, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington counties. He said if the attorneys in the circuit agree on a candidate who would run in a nonpartisan token election, he would call the special election.

Attorneys in the circuit have conducted a poll which show East St. Louis City Judge Joseph Fleming, a Democrat, well in the lead. Once they agree on a candidate, it will be up to Republican and Democratic chairmen in the circuit's seven counties to agree to an election which would mean the casting of ballots in one precinct in each county for the agreed candidate.

Stratton thought the special election might be held "soon," depending on action by the circuit's attorneys and the county chairmen. The vacancy to be filled was caused by the death earlier this year of Circuit Judge Edward F. Barois, East St. Louis, a Republican. The other three incumbents also are Republicans. The 3rd circuit is one of several downstate in which there are four judges.

Richard Hodgman, Chicago, one of the last of the major office holders from Democratic heydays, has gone the way of state politics. Hodgman who put in the last 30 months effecting a change-over from 20 years of Democrat control in the office of Secretary of State to the new Republican regime of Secretary Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, has resigned, but without any bad feelings.

Hodgman, 52, a civil engineer in private life, left to take a $1,000 a month job as deputy comptroller for Cook County under his old friend and former boss, Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, Chicago, former secretary of state, having enjoyed working with Secretary Carpenter, who kept him on as assistant secretary. He plans, however, to be available to Carpenter for possible future consultation.

Hodgman was highly regarded, some even going so far as to say

SHE'S TOPS — Actress Deborah Kerr is the winner of the Sarah Siddons award as Chicago's outstanding actress of the 1954-55 season. She won for her performance in "Tea and Sympathy." Thirty-seven other actresses were considered for the honor by the Sarah Siddons Society, an organization of drama devotees.

Cut ripe tomatoes into sections and simmer over a low fire until they're soft. Then cool and put through a strainer. Next, bring the juice to a boil and pour into clean, hot jars and seal. Process in a boiling water bath for 15 minutes, and store in a cool, dark place.

he was the most competent employee in state government. Republicans along with Democrats admired and respected him. There was no friction between Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green, Chicago, and former Secretary Barrett, or between Gov. William O. Stratton and Carpenter, with Hodgman at the helm.

Secretary Carpenter in announcing Hodgman's departure, the terminal date for which has not been fixed, praised his assistant as "one of the many publicly unknown state employees whose devotion to duty makes possible the smooth, honest operation of state government." Hodgman came to the secretary of state's office in January 1945. Carpenter said no successor to Hodgman has as yet been selected.

Find Missing Chemist Buried in Kentucky Park

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky. (UP)—A decomposed body found in Mammoth Cave National Park was identified today as that of Lewis A. Finn, 60, a missing Chicago chemist.

Positive identification was made by Dr. Max Forkosh, Chicago dentist, and Richard Finn, of Denver, a brother, who flew to Kentucky from Deerfield, Mich.

Thomas J. Gearty, special agent in charge of the FBI Louisville office, said no additional charges have been placed as yet against two hitchhikers held in connection with the case.

The body was found Thursday by an FBI agent and two local authorities following directions of two suspects in the case, Leonard Lafond, 20, and Jo Anne Severson, 18, both of Milwaukee, Wis.

Lafond was being held at Las Cruces, N. M., and Miss Severson at San Antonio, Tex., both on Dyer act charges.

The couple said they had disposed of Finn's remains at the place they named. Finn has been missing since late in July when he left the home of a brother at West Palm Beach, Fla., to visit another brother at Yuma, Ariz.

Huey Long, shot while in the Louisiana capitol, died September 10, 1935.

QUITE A 'THING'—This fearsome-looking monster is the Marine Corps' latest antitank weapon. The "land-going destroyer" is called "Ontos," a Greek word meaning "The Thing." Developed by the Army, Ontos carries six 106-mm. recoilless rifles, four 50-caliber spotting rifles and one 30-caliber machine gun. Before firing the forward-pointing recoilless rifles, Marine crews draw a bead with the spotting rifles. All six 106-mm. rifles may be fired in salvo. Ontos is called a hit-and-run weapon because after firing, the vehicle runs quickly for cover to reload. Its General Motors 145-h.p. engine speeds it at 40 m.p.h. Ontos will be produced at the Allis-Chalmers' La Porte, Ind., plant.

President Begins Carefree Week End

DENVER (UP)—President Eisenhower, aloof to a renewed wave of speculation over his 1956 plans, today began a carefree week end golfing reunion with old links companions at the Augusta, Ga., National Country Club.

The President—at least publicly—ignored the wave of conjecture that followed a White House announcement Thursday that GOP chairmen of all 48 states will fly here late next week for a breakfast session with Mr. Eisenhower.

The unusual move was interpreted generally as the first official indication that Mr. Eisenhower will be identified directly with the 1956 campaign, regardless of his role in it.

Illinois Legion Auxiliary Elects Officers

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Illinois American Legion auxiliary, meeting here in conjunction with the State Legion convention, today elected officers and delegates to the national convention at Miami in October.

Only one office was contested, historian, which is regarded as the first step on the way to the presidency.

Candidates for the historian's office were Mrs. Fanette Edwards and Mrs. Michael J. Healy, both of Chicago, and Mr. Betty Duff, Harvard, and Mrs. Willard Peterson, Victoria.

Mrs. Roy M. Mount, Tuscola, was unopposed for president; Mrs. Mae Lady, Cook county, for first vice president; Mrs. Norman J. Biebel, Belleville, for second vice president; and Mrs. Margaret Dugan, Cook county, for treasurer.

Nineteen national convention delegates were to be elected from a field of 90 candidates.

France Orders New Battalions Sent to Algeria

PARIS (UP)—France today ordered nine more battalions of troops rushed to Algeria where new clashes with Algerian rebels were reported to have claimed 54 lives in the last 24 hours.

A meeting of top cabinet ministers with Premier Edgar Faure also approved a new program aimed at keeping the rich North Africa territory peaceably within the French empire.

The North African coordination committee, meeting under Faure's direction, made the decisions on Algeria in spite of a split in his government on the peace plan for neighboring Morocco.

The latter, a French protectorate, is the most immediately explosive issue. But Algeria is the toughest long-term problem of France in holding its North African possessions.

Reports received by the committee today said 51 Arab rebels and three loyalists were killed in clashes in Algeria Thursday and Thursday night.

French troops reported they had fought engagements with rebels in an attempt to oust them from their mountain hideouts.

Twenty-five additional casualties were reported from Morocco and Tunisia in the same period. Both are beset with seething anti-French nationalist campaigns.

The new French resident general for Morocco, Gen. Pierre Boyer de La Tour, informed the committee he was making a hurried inspection of the scenes of the worst anti-French uprisings and massacres.

The disorders in Morocco and Algeria claimed an officially estimated total of 2,228 dead. But veterans of North African campaigns estimated the total in the Aug. 20-21 uprisings at more nearly 4,000. They explained that Arab tribesmen normally hide their dead to disguise their actual casualties.

Radio, TV Actor Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (UP)—Veteran Broadway actor Philip Loeb, 61, Papa Goldberg of the famed radio and television series, was found dead Thursday night in his hotel room.

Police found a bottle containing 14 sleeping pills on a dresser and a two-day old prescription for 50 sleeping tablets. An autopsy was planned.

Loeb had been virtually unemployed since early in 1952 when he was dropped from the cast of the television version of "The Goldbergs." The firing stemmed from publication of Loeb's name in a booklet called "Red Channels."

Loeb protested that he was "not a Communist, Communist sympathizer or fellow traveler" but was never reinstated.

Predicts Polio Toll Short of 1952

WASHINGTON (UP)—A government expert predicted today that the polio toll this year will fall far short of the big epidemic of 1952 when 57,000 Americans got the disease.

But Dr. C. C. Dauer said there are indications more cases will be recorded the year than in the relatively mild years of 1950 and 1951.

"In other words," he said, "it now looks as if 1955 will be an ordinary polio year. Assuming there are no unforeseen developments, of course."

Polio generally hits hardest in the United States between mid-August and mid-September with the season arriving early in the South and moving north. After September, the number of new cases usually begins tapering off.

Russian aircraft plants have promised to turn out next year 200,000 streamlined chrome-plated baby carriages.

Juvenile Crime Can Be Controlled, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover Says

By J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director of the FBI
Written for the United Press

WASHINGTON (UP)—In the absence of complete records, the full story of juvenile crime is not available. Clear trends are revealed each year, however, in the statistics submitted under the FBI's uniform crime reporting program.

How are we to combat the trends which reflect a shocking number of juveniles involved in illegal activities each year?

First of all, we need to know that juvenile crime is not an uncontrollable problem. Something can be done about it. In more than a few areas of the country something is being done. A number of communities, aroused by the spreading blot of youthful crime, have succeeded in halting the increase of delinquency and in a few instances have reversed the general trend. No "cure-all" remedy has been found. Hard work, determination, and community cooperation appear to be the common denominators rather than specific methods of attack. The methods varied. They ranged from programs of youth policing themselves, to the courts holding parents responsible for the acts of their children. Getting "tough" with delinquents was effective in one area. Police boys clubs worked in other areas. Still others emphasized improvement of recreational facilities. While methods were many and varied, all groups stressed one thing: Prevention of crime.

Preventive efforts with relation to delinquency problems can be most effective when the specific causes of delinquency are once ascertained. These vary. Delinquents come from wealthy as well as poverty-stricken homes. It is the way a child is reared and the atmosphere of the surroundings in which he is reared that make him what he is. Almost invariably there is a cause-and-effect relationship between the delinquent and the atmosphere of the home.

Juvenile delinquency stems from adult failures and adult delinquencies. We need to restore stern standards of adult conduct. We need to debunk the debunkers who continuously slander traditional standards of conduct, morality and patriotism. We need to demand responsibility on the part of parents. The Biblical charge to "train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it" is as sound today as it was one or many generations ago.

Air Force to Pay for Deaths of 65 Mink

MILWAUKEE (UP)—The federal government has agreed to pay a mink farm $1,300 for the death of 65 mink allegedly caused by low flying Air Force planes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Handrow said in a $5,000 damage suit that in 1950 several planes flew low over their Sheboygan County farm on maneuvers, frightening the female mink so that they killed their kittens.

Settlement of the suit came after hearings opened Thursday before Federal Judge Kenneth P. Grubb.

American League Begins Final Drive for Flag, Valuable Player Award

By United Press
The four American league contenders begin their final frantic dash to the wire tonight with a coveted "most valuable player" award as well as a World Series pot hanging in the balance.

Competition for the glamorous MVP award is as close as the pennant race itself—and it's obvious a fast finish by Minnie Minoso, Al Smith, Mickey Mantle or Ted Williams could win both. They aren't the only contenders, of course, but they're the "big men" on the contending teams and the most likely vote-getters in the MVP balloting.

Minoso, an early-season disappointment, has been a spectacular performer for the first-place Chicago White Sox in the last month. He's batted safely in 23 of the last 24 games and raised his average to .292.

Smith has played five positions for the Cleveland Indians this year. The 27-year old Negro from Kirkwood, Mo., is hitting .305 and has driven in 72 runs while connecting for 20 homers.

Needs September Spurt
Mantle could easily wrap up the award and the pennant for the New York Yankees with a September spurt. Mantle leads the league with 34 homers, has batted in 89 runs and is hitting .305.

Williams, of course, is the current favorite for the award because the Boston Red Sox never resembled a contender until he joined them from "retirement." He's batting .353, has driven in 73 runs and hit 25 homers in 75 games.

The White Sox, still holding an important one-game edge in the "lost" column, open a four-game weekend series with the Indians tonight and then play the Detroit Tigers on Labor Day.

Yankees vs. Senators
The Yankees play at home to the Senators over the weekend and are in Baltimore Monday against the Orioles.

It's the reverse for the Red Sox, who need a spurt without delay if they're going to make it.

In the National league, it's all about the shouting in the wake of the Brooklyn Dodgers' 6.3 victory Thursday over the Milwaukee Braves. The triumph put the Dodgers 13 games ahead of the Braves with 23 games to play and reduced their "magic number" to 10. In other words, a team that's played 649 ball for 131 games must play only .435 ball in 23 contests to clinch.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall scored his 15th victory despite two homers by Dusty Rhodes and one by Alvin Dark as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the New York Giants, 7-4.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-6, in the only other game and now are only 2 1/2 games out of seventh place.

Lane Fined $500, Apology Ordered For Blast at Ump

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox said today he'll come through with the $500 fine and apology ordered by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick for using "vile and profane language" in protesting an umpire's decision.

But the Sox' fiery front office boss insisted that "I think this whole thing is making a mountain out of a molehill."

The penalties were assessed by Frick Thursday as a result of an incident that occurred in last Tuesday night's White Sox-Boston Red Sox game at Comiskey Park, Chicago.

Lane admits he got angry when Umpire Larry Napp ejected Chicago catcher Sherman Lollar from the game for heckling.

Lane charged into a box occupied by Cal Hubbard, the league's umpire-in-chief, and expressed his feelings in strong language. Will Harridge, president of the American League, was seated with Hubbard, but Lane insisted his remarks were not addressed to Harridge.

Frick said the affair was reported to him by "a third party" not by Harridge. The commissioner conferred with Lane here Thursday and then issued this announcement:

"For conduct unbecoming to an official of baseball, including vile and profane language, you are fined $500. It is understood that you are to make proper apologies to Mr. Harridge, to the American League, and to the Chicago fans."

Lane said he would get off a telegram apologizing to Harridge "immediately," but said he didn't know how to apologize to the fans.

"Why should I apologize to them," Lane asked. "For trying like hell to win the American League pennant?"

Eldorado Has 11 Lettermen On Grid Squad

Four Veterans in Backfield; Open Against Anna

There are thirty candidates, including 11 lettermen, for the Eldorado high school varsity football squad.

Opening practice was Monday morning and through Wednesday there were two practice sessions daily, with only varsity candidates participating in the workouts, under the direction of coaches Al Adams, "Chuck" Leonard and Gene Haile.

The number of hopefuls was greatly increased Thursday, the opening day of school, when underclassmen were invited to start practice.

Although it is very early in the season, Eldorado fans are looking forward to a winning team. But the coaches aren't exactly 100 per cent with the fans' opinion.

Lack of depth in the backfield is causing concern in the coaching ranks.

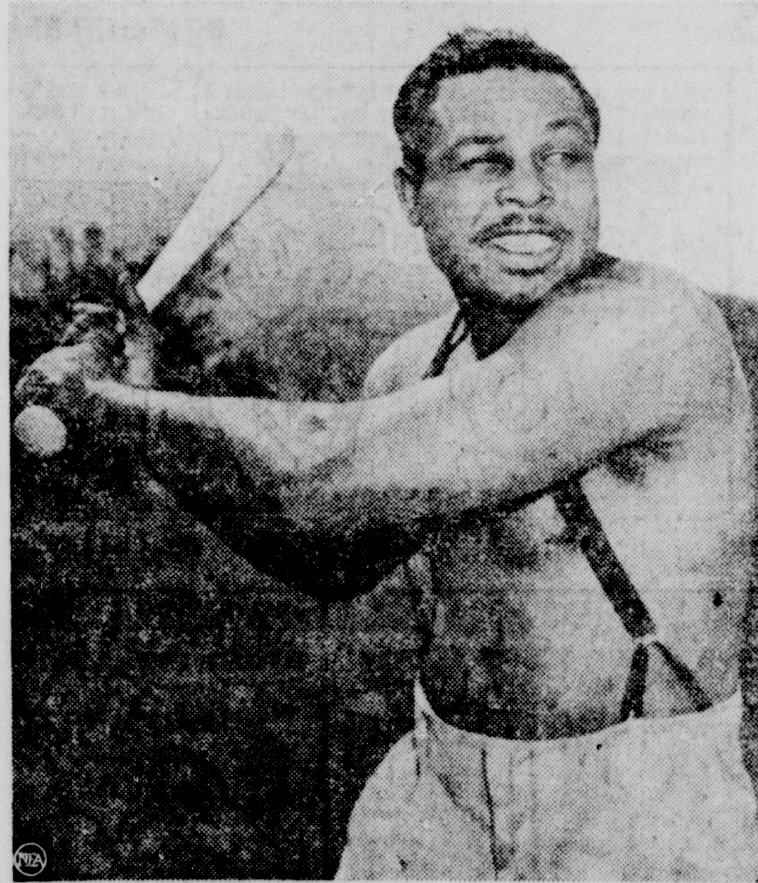

A starting quartet of Co-Captain Acie Gwaltney and Bobb Potts at the halfback spots, Ronnie Clark at quarterback and Lindell Lovellette at fullback appears to be more than adequate. But after those four there is no one else with experience, so the coaches are giving a long, careful look at all the boys, hoping to uncover some potential ball carriers.

The line seems to have both experience and depth, led by Co-Captain and center Bob Laffoon. Other returning lettermen for line play include Herron, Putnam, Stroke, Davis, Chandler and McClary. Others with varsity experience are included in the group of candidates.

The key to Eldorado's success may be the development of Lovellette as a dependable fullback. Last year he divided his time between the line and backfield, but plans for the 1955 season have him operating practically all the time in the backfield.

He could be a bone-crushing fullback, something Eldorado hasn't had in a long time. Lovellette weighed in at 214 pounds and "no fat" he is the type that thrives on hard work, so may top the 214 pounds by the time the opening game of the season rolls around. Eldorado entertains Anna Sept. 16.

Yanks Recall Eight Players for Stretch Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — Relief pitcher Jim Konstanty and utility infielder Bobby Richardson were recalled from the minors today by the New York Yankees for the American league stretch drive along with eight other players who will report next season.

Konstanty and Richardson, both with the Yankees earlier this season, will report Tuesday from the Richmond, Va., club of the International league after it closes its season. Neither would be eligible for World Series play.

Ordered to report for spring training were pitchers Wally Burnette, Steve Kraly and Ed Cereghino and shortstops Billy Hunter and Woody Held of Denver in the American Association; pitcher Ralph Terry and third baseman Buddy Carter of Birmingham in the Southern Association, and catcher Lou Berberet of Toronto in the International league.

Who Rides With Wyatt

by Will Henry

THE STORY: Ousted as deputy sheriff in Tombstone, Wyatt goes to see Evvie Cushman, the black-haired beauty he met on the stage from Benson. She turns down Wyatt's fumbling marriage proposal, and Wyatt goes to the Bird Cage theater where Lilly Belloit tells him not to leave town. She also tells him that Evvie is not Wyatt's kind—"not any man's kind."

Lilly just looked at him a minute. "You want to hear something else that'll make you a site sicker?"

"What you talking about, Lilly?" She gave it to him, uncut. "Benson is spreading it around that in your last four days as sheriff, nobody's stuck up any stages. That's the first time more than 48 hours have gone by but what some outie hasn't tried to make a hoist somewhere along the line."

"Maybe I'd ought to thank him for the compliment before I leave."

"He's saying it's pretty hard to stick up stages and be sheriff all the same time."

Wyatt laughed. A man had heard some silly things in his time. "I wasn't even near this town up to this week."

"Can you prove it?"

"Sure. Ringo was with me."

"Ringo?" she said. "Now, there's a wonderful boy for an alibi! Telling it big that Tombstone wasn't wide enough to hold both him and you."

"But neither Clum nor his Citizen's Committee, nor any other man of good sense hereabouts, is going to question where I was two, three weeks ago."

"And how about two, three hours ago?"

The way she said it, coming up off the bed where she'd been sitting, holding him hard with that anxious, bright-eyed look of hers, told him she was dead serious.

"You're in trouble, Wyatt. Your horse is outside, lathered and warm."

She laid the rest of it on, harsh as raw salt in an open cut. "The Benson stage was stuck up at Boquilla Springs three hours ago. Monk Wilson was shot and killed, and the company lost the Lucky Cuss payroll. Upwards of $14,000 in greenback cash."

Then he was easing the door open, taking a last quick look around, and slipping through it. She was at his stirrup before he could get Big Red reined around. "Wyatt, don't go! Don't quit like this."

"Back in the shack before you freeze, girl. Hard work, that's what makes the world go around. Lilly, no, don't you worry your pretty head about old Wyatt, your boy is mainly off to see a man about a job!"

The noon stage for Tombstone left Benson on time the following Wednesday—with the Contention payroll in its usual place between the shotgun rider's feet. There wasn't a thing to mark its departure from that of the previous Wednesday's run, unless a man happened to be looking for little things.

It had a new driver in place of Old Monk Wilson, and a new shotgun rider in place of the one that had suddenly felt called on to go home and visit his poor sick mother—subsequent, of course, to having Old Monk shot off of the seat alongside him on the Monday run.

One passenger got on at the depot stop.

Even the shadowy horsemen that melted out of the rocks to yell up at the new driver looked about the same. There were seven or eight of them and their leader, though it wasn't the same one as before, appeared to be enjoying his job and being real pleasant.

There was one slight turn from the other pattern, for the new rider was no Wyatt Earp. He let go of his 12 gauge as requested, but foremost, by the time it hit the dirt alongside of the coach, things were smack back on schedule.

A double-barreled shotgun blasted the night and two bandit blades were standing empty, exactly as before.

The outlaw leader and his surviving partners had only time to realize the tubes had rolled out the near-side, coach door window, when the door itself slammed open and the solitary, black-coated passenger was hitting the dirt, heels first, bucking a cavalry model .44 into the packed mass of their horses.

They ripped a couple of carbine slugs through the coach, with maybe six, eight others into the air around it. But the passenger's right-hand gun had emptied a third saddle by that time and the first shot from his left-hand gun, following the invisibly fast border shift, had winged their leader.

None of them knew that it was just a scratch; that the .44 slug had hit the breech of the leader's rifle, ricocheted off of it, knocking it out of his hand and numbing that forearm with the grazing wall-lap from half an ounce of lead traveling 840 feet a second. They heard him yell. Three down and one drilled inside of 10 seconds was too fast and fancy. It wasn't the kind of arithmetic that added up to easy money in any man's mind.

They got out fast, and their late-

Allis-Chalmers, CIO Agree to Contract

MILWAUKEE — The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers today agreed on a three-year contract calling for a guaranteed annual wage and 24-cent package pay boost.

ly laughing leader wasn't the last one to leave the scene, by several. It was just 7:15 p. m. when the Benson stage pulled up to the O.K. Stable stop, and Tombstone got her first word that Wells Fargo had hired on a new express messenger, Wyatt Earp.

He was stalking up Allen Street with the Contention payroll box under one arm and a sawed-off shotgun under the other.
